DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's response to the office action of 06/20/08 is noted on 09/18/08

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it needs to be by itself on a separate sheet. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 6-9 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fischer (US Patent No. 4,397,419).

Fischer discloses a flexible guiding element for toy vehicles comprising a body having first and second ends (1), elements (7) are considered as ductile metal members and the bend they have is considered as being twisted. The end of element (7) is considered as a male connector and the recess (8) is considered as a female connector member. Elements 9 and 10 provide an interference fit.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5, 10, and 11 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fischer (US Patent No. 4,397,419). Fischer does not disclose expressly if the indentations at each side of the edges could be V-shaped. At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to provide V-shaped indentations because Applicant has not disclosed that having the V-shaped indentation provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with either the indentation type as taught by Fisher or the claimed V-shaped indentation because both types of indentations perform the same function of Making the device to bend to plurality of different curved shapes.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 09/18/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., that the Fisher reference fails to teach a single segment having an encased ductile metal member) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
